

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED IN ITALY; MUSSOLINI REPORTED TO BE PRISONER

ALLIES START SQUEEZE PLAY ON SICILY FOE

Remaining Axis Troops Are Crowded Into Northeast
Corner of Island

By The Associated Press
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 26—Allied troops are squeezing tighter upon Axis last-stand defenses in northern Sicily against bitter resistance, it was announced today, and American troops mopping up western Sicily have captured 20 miles east of Palermo, and taken 7,000 more prisoners, including six Italian generals and an admiral.

Further pressure on the enemy was maintained in all sectors by American, Canadian and British forces in the Catania-Etna-Messina area, the allied communiqué declared.

Canadians striking east from central Sicily "continued to advance, but their progress was slowed in the face of bitter resistance," it added. Some units of the U. S. Seventh army driving toward Messina are far to the east of Termini, and its capture consolidates the grasp upon the northern coastal area of the island.

70,000 Prisoners Taken
More than 70,000 prisoners now are in allied hands of which 56,000 were taken by Americans.

To date, 10 generals and two admirals have surrendered.

It was officially estimated that three and a half German divisions and three Italian divisions were bottled up in the northeastern corner of Sicily.

Allied planes kept up their incessant hammering, and the axis supply port of Milazzo west of Messina was blasted Saturday night with many fires started. Road objectives near Orlando also were hit.

Three axis aircraft were destroyed against loss of one allied plane.

American units had all but finished the mop-up of western Sicily with occupation of Trapani and had taken at least 57,000 prisoners. Trapani was occupied over the weekend by armored forces of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr. Trapani fell after the capture of Marsala and Palermo, the other two main ports in that area.

Axis Held Area
The successful conclusion of the western campaign permitted the American forces to swing around to menace the right flank of the principal remaining axis forces holding positions bounded on the south of the Messina river, three miles south of Catania, running west through Catenanuova, north to Regalbuto, and the bending

GIFTS POUR IN FOR FRIDAY STAMP SALE

Merchandise for Auction Is Donated by Merchants.

A partial list of merchandise to be offered for sale in the War Bond and Stamp Auction at the courthouse Friday night was announced today by Jerry Patton, who is in charge of the Marion county phase of the nationwide July drive to sell $130,000,000 in war stamps to cover the cost of the mystery aircraft carrier, USS Shanghaia.

The auction sale will highlight the county's participation. Sales so far this month have totaled $9,463, Assistant Postmaster L. E. Coleman reported today. Marion's quota is $33,000 or approximately $1 per resident.

Merchandise already donated by Marion merchants for sale includes a flower vase, an Army time clock, coffee brewer, glass clockwork, gift set, automatic washboard, toaster, fruit and vegetable agitator, 40 cans of cleaning cleanser, paint for one room, glass dish, candle holder, hand bag, box of candy, alarm clock, stand, purse, six pairs of silk hose, large flower vase, set of white dishes, vacuum, set of four candles, console set, one stand, shirt and tie, coffee pot, 12 mason fruit jars, comb, pair of shoes, trousers, pair of brown shoes, stationery, needle, doll dishes, liquid wax, one tie, quart of grape juice, a four-slice toaster, mirror and a tea set.

The merchandise will be placed on display in the windows of the Marion Federal Savings & Loan association at 116 South Main street and the Marion Federal Savings & Loan Co. at 104 East Center street.

The state highway patrol, called to the scene of the accident, said the crash apparently resulted when Hook lost control of his machine. From fire marks found on the pavement it was apparent the older machine swerved in front of the auto driven by Mr. James.

Harold Fremont, proprietor of the Scioto Trail Garage, who was called to remove the vehicles, said both cars were demolished. "Impressions on the rear of the Hook car and tire marks on the highway, he said, indicated the Hook car was struck from behind. He explained that the back part of the machine was hurled against a guard rail, puncturing the gas tank and resulting in the fire.

6 INJURED IN BURNING AUTO
Two in Critical Condition
After Collision Near Marion.

Four residents of rural Marion county narrowly escaped death shortly after midnight last night when the auto in which they were riding caught fire after tugging in a collision with a car driven by a Marion man on Route 30-S. Two and one-half miles west of Marion.

In critical condition in Marion City hospital are Miss Maxine Hill, 17, daughter of Mrs. Elva Hill of near Marion, and Delbert Hook, 19, son of Neil Hook of the Big Island-Green Camp road.

Others injured

Also injured but not seriously were Frank Edward Cooper, and his wife, Anna Marie Cooper, both 19, who lived with Mr. Cooper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cooper, of the Burnford road, and Newell James and his wife, Mildred, of 458 East Center street.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, parents of a five weeks' old baby, were riding in the westbound car driven by Hook while Mr. and Mrs. James were driving towards Marion.

Miss Hill suffered severe burns on the hands, arms, forehead, legs, a fractured left leg, a deep scalp laceration and severe shock.

The attending physician reported that Hook suffered extreme burns on both legs, facial burns and burn injuries to both hands.

Mrs. Cooper's physician said she suffered second degree burns on the back and legs and slight burns about the face. Neck, arm and both legs.

Mrs. James suffered a possible concussion, a severely bruised eye and small bruises about the legs. Mrs. James suffered minor chest injuries.

Only One Conscious
In City hospital, Cooper told the attending physician he was the only one in the westbound car who remained conscious throughout the crash. He said he was burned in getting his wife, Hook and Miss Hill out of the burning machine.

cists." He defined them as "small but powerful groups which put money and power first and people last."

Senator Nye (R-N.D.) told reporters it seemed clear to him that Wallace was attempting to shape the vital issue of the presidential campaign between so-called interventionists and isolationists.

"Such an issue would at least let the administration take the public mind away from the embarrassing messes the administration has left in its path during these late years," Nye declared.

"But as one non-interventionist, I would be quite willing to go to bat on what Wallace calls the isolationist front."

"The day of reckoning is close at hand for Wallace and the whole administration," the North Dakota senator continued.

"It isn't going to help them cause merely to recite how the people of South America love Roosevelt for what he has done for them with American dollars. Americans are getting a bit weary of all the nice things we do for others and are wondering when we are to start looking after American interests for a change."

Wallace said in his speech that on a recent trip to South America he found that "the lowliest peasant looked on President Roosevelt as the symbol of his dearest aspirations in the peace to come."

NEW BLAST FIRED AT PARTY CHAIRMAN

By The Associated Press

State Democratic Chairman Darrel S. Jones found himself under fire again today as prominent party members continued their quest for an answer to the federal patronage puzzle.

Joseph M. Sullivan, a Democratic state central committee member, said he had asked Chairman Al Horstman to call an immediate meeting of the committee to consider whether to discontinue Jones.

State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, who has accused Jones of failing to produce federal jobs for the party's faithful in Ohio, said he planned a gathering next month to discuss the patronage picture.

Sullivan indicated his request for "a meeting at once" was made after he was informed of Ferguson's "pending" caucus.

The Springfield, O., Democratic leader said he telegraphed his plea to Horstman yesterday, asserting he could see no advantage in Ferguson's meeting "since only the state central committee holds the power of naming and firing" a state chairman.

"I hold no brief for Jones," he added. "I took my stand against him 15 days after he was appointed. . . . If he is to be removed or retained, I think it should be done in a perfectly regular manner and not by any high pressure methods."

At Dayton, Horstman said he did not receive Sullivan's message last night, but added there probably would be no meeting of the central committee until its regular assembly in about 30 days.

Ferguson's session was scheduled tentatively for early August, and some persons said a showdown between the auditor and Jones could be expected. Ferguson said he would ask national committee members Charles Sawyer and Mildred Jager, National Chairman Frank Walker, county chairman and elected officials to attend.

Deadline for Sales Tax Returns Is Saturday

Saturday, July 31 is the deadline for state sales tax returns. Carroll W. Davidson, county sales tax examiner states, Mr. Davidson will be in his office or the third floor of the courthouse every day next week with the exception of Tuesday, July 27 when he will be at the mayor's office at Columbus to receive returns from that section of the county. At noon Tuesday he will be at Marietta during the noon hour to the convenience of persons in that community. There are a large number of returns yet to be made. Mr. Davidson states.

4 MAJOR FINANCIAL PROBLEMS now faced by the railroads include heavy taxes and greater cost of materials. Equipment now in service bears extra strain. The wheels pictured above travel more track in a week than they used to cover in a month. And rails and cars and engines are being used up at a rapid rate. Normal repairs cannot be made because of shortage of materials and man-power. Funds which should be put aside out of current earnings for making these repairs in the future are now taxed as "profits."

5 WEAKENING OF THE RAILROADS would be a national calamity. They are our lifelines, the vital arteries of our industrial and commercial system. America must keep its railroads strong. Too much depends on them today, and will depend on them tomorrow, to risk the effects of any policy that would endanger what we now enjoy—the finest railroad service in the world.

AMERICA SHOULD KEEP ITS LIFELINES STRONG

2 IT IS TRUE the railroads are earning more money today than they have in recent years, but for many years past they have been making far less than other businesses. Even in 1942, a peak year, earnings were only 5.25% on investment. And in the ten years ending with 1941, the average earnings were only a fraction over 2%. Many small businesses like the little retailer pictured above have, over the years, made much more money per dollar invested.

3 IN THE FIRST WORLD WAR the standard return fixed by the government for the railroads amounted to 5.21% on investment. Today the railroads are earning about 6%—a little more than they did in 1918. But they are carrying 24% more passengers and 55% more freight.

TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

SUBJECT: A RECOMMENDATION...

FROM THE CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE U. S.

Supreme Court of the United States
Washington, D. C.

CHAMBERS OF
THE CHIEF JUSTICE
1929 TWENTY-FOURTH STREET, N. W.

June 29, 1943

The Honorable
The Secretary of the Treasury
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Secretary:

Both you and the country are to be congratulated on the striking success of the Voluntary Payroll Savings Plan. Through it twenty-seven million wage earners are regularly investing in Government bonds more than $420,000,000 a month to meet the cost of the war. This is of primary importance as an aid to winning the war and as a safeguard against inflation. But it is also important that so many of our fellow citizens are reviving the forgotten art of saving from earnings. One way of securing freedom from want in the future is by saving something from the plenty of today.

Yours sincerely,

Harlan F. Stone

FROM THE CONGRESS OF THE U. S.

Congress of the United States
JOINT COMMITTEE ON INTERNAL REVENUE TAXATION
Washington

June 29, 1943

Dear Mr. Secretary:

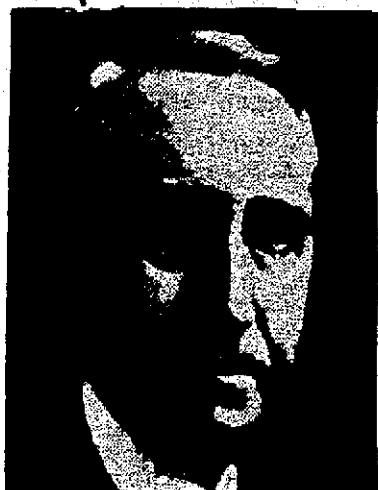

Thank you for sending us the description of your expanded payroll savings drive based on the theme "Figure It Out Yourself".

The House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee are happy to support the present drive to increase the purchases of War Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. This plan has already achieved a fine record. The fact that twenty-seven million American workmen and women are setting aside almost ten percent of every pay envelope and salary check speaks for itself.

We agree with you, however, that public participation in the financing of this war should be and must be stepped up materially. Not only does the Treasury need added funds, but every dollar diverted from the purchasing stream into savings is a contribution to the fight against inflation. We wish you success in this campaign and we know that the American people will respond to this appeal as they have in the past.

Sincerely,

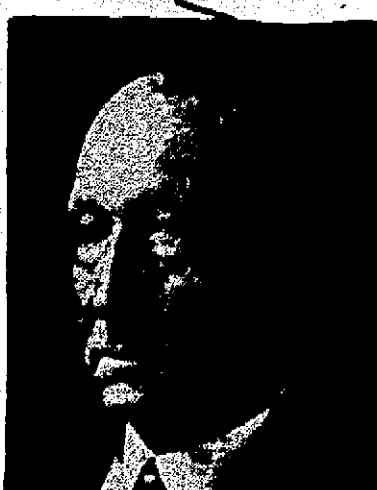

Hon. Henry Morgenthau, Jr.
Secretary of the Treasury
Washington, D. C.

Senator Walter F. George (Ga.)
Chairman
Senate Finance Committee

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg,

Minority Ranking Member

Hon. Robert L. Doughton (N. C.)

Hon. Harold Knutson (Minn.)

Means Committee

Members of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation whose signatures appear above are: Senator Walter F. George, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Hon. Robert L. Doughton, and Hon. Harold Knutson.

N. J., July 26—A poll of the American public, conducted by the American Institute of Public Opinion, has shown that the majority of the public is in favor of the "Baruch" food committee.

CORN CROP OUTLOOK BETTER THAN 1942

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, July 26—Overlooked in the discussion of this year's crop, grain experts say, is the fact that the production prospects are better than they were in 1942, when the crop was the largest since the yellow grain on record.

The fact was not revealed in the government's production report for the year at 2,706,000 bushels. This, the government would compare with 1942's 2,627,323 bushels. This fact is usually forgotten. The following figures show the government's estimates last year:

Production	Yield Per Acre
1942 2,627,323,000 bu.	29.4 bu.
1943 2,706,000,000 bu.	30.8 bu.
1944 2,706,000,000 bu.	33.7 bu.
1945 2,706,000,000 bu.	35.0 bu.
1946 2,706,000,000 bu.	35.6 bu.

Inability to harvest all the grain brought final production figures down to 2,627,323 bushels, or a yield of 30.8 bushels an acre.

Canton Man Elected Ohio D.A.V. Commander
By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., July 26—Frank Brown of Canton is the new commander of the Disabled War Veterans of Ohio. Mrs. John Lange of Cleveland is president of the D.V.A. chapter.

Other officers elected at the closing sessions of the D.V.A. convention yesterday included Mrs. Joe Polley of Canton, junior vice president.

The veterans adopted resolutions urging deportation within six months after the war of aliens failing to take advantage of opportunities to become citizens and opposing the employment in Ohio of Japanese-Americans from the west coast.

BOMBER CREW ESCAPES

even think the administration should take the extraordinary step of calling in Herbert Hoover, the food czar of the last war, to handle the food situation today.

Results of Poll
The idea of having a Baruch committee to investigate food is approved by two out of every three voters, as the following survey results show:

Believe There is Need for Investigation 67%
Believe It Is Not Necessary 22%
Undecided 11%

Popular reaction to the idea of naming Mr. Hoover as food administrator was tested as follows:

"Would you be for or against having Herbert Hoover take over the entire food problem in the United States?"

About one voter in every seven (15 per cent) had no opinion on the subject. The vote of those with opinions is:

For 59%
Against 41%

As might be expected, the vote follows party lines. It is significant, however, that more than one-third of all Democrats favor the idea of calling in Mr. Hoover, as the following table shows:

Demo- crats 59%
Re- publicans 41%

Healthy Curtailment
The people of the United States are likewise accepting the view that most Americans would be healthier if they ate less.

This fact is revealed in the replies to this question in the institute survey:

"In general, do you think most people you know would be healthier if they ate less?"

The results follow:

National 64%
Men 61%
Women 67%
Age 21-29 56%
30-49 65%
50 and Over 68%

Some medical authorities are inclined to feel that if wartime food rationing reduces weight it will be all to the good. Has it done so?

The evidence from today's survey indicates a slight trend in that direction.

This is shown by the following part of the survey:

"Have you lost weight or gained weight since food rationing began?"

Lost Weight 19%
Gained Weight 12%
Remained Same 69%

Spotted Fever Kills Two in Ohio This Summer
By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, July 26—Rocky Mountain spotted fever apparently is unusually virulent this year and Ohioans, especially blackberry pickers, should guard against the woodtick which carries the disease, Dr. R. H. Markwith, state health director, said today.

Normal death rate from the disease is 20 per cent, but two of three persons contracting the fever in Ohio died this year. Persons bitten by woodticks should remove the insect immediately and treat the bite with iodine, Markwith declared.

Melvin Jones Strickling, 12, of Louisville and Ray Jones of Monroe county have died of the fever, and Imogene Erb, 2, of Marietta is ill with it.

A Lovely Workroom!

That is what dozens of admirers have said after seeing the beautiful Armstrong Inlaid installation which we made for Mrs. Walter Slob at 382 North State street. Honestly, it is so lovely that Mrs. Slob will welcome you if you call to inspect it.

Here is a job that shows you just what we mean when we tell you that we can convert a drab, unsightly room into a real place of beauty. It is a modern kitchen. Any one would be proud to work there.

We are so proud of it that we had Hughes' Studio take a picture of it. You may call at our store and see it. And dozens of others that are equally attractive.

These are our jewels. These photos tell you why we boast that "We don't SELL Linoleum." We sell and create beautiful workrooms that speak for themselves. Hundreds of nicest homes in Marion County are mighty proud of their new Kitchen and Bath Room designed by Lennon's and installed by our factory trained experts.

There is no obligation on your part to have us design a room for your home that will make you equally proud. Then, too, these new Armstrong floors are so easily taken care of. Saves you all that hard work of scrubbing.

We show every pattern in the big Armstrong line. You choose your new floor not from samples, but from full rolls that enable you to see just how your new floor will look.

Revived Pitchers Keep Bucs In Race

Old Timers Win 10 Out of Last 13 Games To Boost Average.

By SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer

It was only a question of time until Frank Frisch came up with something that would give the home-leagues to the old 242 that baseball is a young man's game. Now that he's found it, he has the Pittsburgh Pirates parading up the trail.

Including yesterday's win over the Brooklyn Dodgers—the Pirates have put together four victories in a row and 10 out of 13, since the All-Star truce, and they are close enough to second place in the National League to reach over the top.

Inasmuch as the Pirates have no reason-long regular batting .300 and the club itself sports a puny par of 256 for the year up to now—it is obvious the boost of the Bucs lately lies in the elbowing forces Frisch has been rejuvenating. More particularly, it rests on three pitching arms.

These arms are hung on the sturdy shoulders of Dippy-Dog Rip Sewell, Battle "Em" Bob Klinger, and Wally Hebert, who has been bouncing around quite a bit since his last trip up to the majors with the St. Louis Browns in 1931.

These three have won 20 of the Bucs' 43 games to date. Klinger tossed a two-hitter to take yesterday's opener and Hebert backed it up with a four-hitter in the afternoon, and the Pirates rang the cash register 7-1 each time. Sewell already has 15 wins this season.

Of course, all this is just as much extra gravy in the stew for the Cardinals of St. Louis, because they also grabbed off a pair of decisions yesterday, knocking over the Boston Braves 5-1 and 7-3 to run their winning string in eight straight and skyrocket their National league lead to 8½ games.

Over in the American league the Yankees hoisted their lead to seven full games by splitting with the Chicago White Sox. The Sox squeaked through in the opener 2-1, while the Bombers hit the jackpot 6-3 in the afternoon.

The second place Detroit Tigers dumped Philadelphia 5-0 in their first game, but the Athletics came back for a 3-1 edge in the second battle. The Boston Red Sox belted the Browns twice—7-0 and 6-4. Vernon Kennedy's seven-hitter gave Cleveland an 8-2 win over the Washington Senators in their curtain-raiser, but the Nats went on a four-run fourth inning spree to take the nightcap 7-2.

The New York Giants' losing run reached seven straight as the Chicago Cubs evicted the Coogan Bluffers twice by 2-0. A 14-hit attack gave the Cincinnati Reds a 7-3 win over the Phillies, but Jimmy Vassell knocked two runs home to pace the Phils to a 3-1 nightcap win.

REDS AND PHILS END SERIES OF 4 GAMES

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, July 26.—The Cincinnati Reds and the Philadelphia Phils play the finale of their four-game series this morning in a "swing shift" contest starting at 11 o'clock.

The Reds hold the edge for this series winning two and losing one. Ray Starr, who tested but two beats against the Phils Saturday, will do the hurling for the Redlegs while Lefty Jack Krasuski or Anton Karl will oppose him.

The two teams split yesterday's doubleheader. The Cincinnati team winning the opener 7 to 3 but losing the nightcap 3 to 1.

Elmer Riddle went the route in the first game for his thirteenth victory of the season despite a shaky first inning in which the Phils pounded out all of their runs.

Rough treatment was handed the Reds by Richard (Kewpie) Barrett in the nightcap who doled out seven well-scattered hits. The Phils climbed on Ed Heusser for nine hits—three of them doubles.

Columbus Depot Wins from M.E.D., 15 to 14

The officer softballers of the Marion Engineer Depot made a valiant try for a 32 to 27 tieing handed them July 4 by the Columbus General Depot.

Starting hurler for the local affair was Lt. William Brannick who was relieved in the eighth frame by Lt. Marvin Mitchell. Lt. W. H. Steinmeyer did the catching. Lt. Word and Lt. Brewer did the mound chores for the Columbus Depot officers.

The local officers are scheduled to play a practice tilt with a team representing the Soloto Ordnance Plant at the Depot field tonight.

Buck White Ties McSpaden in Tam Open Tourney

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, July 26.—Buck White and McSpaden tied for the lead in the Tam Open tournament after the first round, with a score of 134.

White, a 32-year-old ex-caddy who now is pro at Greenwood, Miss., seldom has finished in the money of the cash circuit, but today he met Jack McSpaden of Philadelphia, a seasoned follower of the Tam Open, in an 18-hole playoff for the $2,500 prize and the title which goes with the game's money.

The loser gets a runner-up award of $1,500.

McSpaden, winner of the Canadian open in 1939 and the Miami Open last winter, tied with White at the end of their 72 holes yesterday with an aggregate of 282 after both had fired 71s—one under par.

Chick Harbert, Battle Creek, Mich., aviation cadet, took a brief lead with three straight birdies, but blew it with a pair of boggies to tie Byron Nelson of Toledo, O., for third place with 283. Harbert posted a par 72 while Nelson rounded out a 68 with a four under par 32 on the back nine.

Meanwhile, Patty Berg of Minneapolis won the first prize of $200 in the Tam women's open by shooting a 79, three over par, which gave her a five stroke lead over SPAR Elizabeth Hicks of Long Beach, Calif.

Senator Rookie Beards Tribe

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 26.—A young Washington rookie bearded the Cleveland Indians—literally and figuratively—to end a victory string at seven games yesterday, when four second string hurlers proved less adequate to maintain the Tribe's winning pace.

Right handed Jim Merz served the Indians a 7 to 2 loss in the second half of a doubleheader, signaling the first shave in seven bewhiskered days for Manager Lou Boudreau and his three coaches. The team's brain trust made a pact a week ago to shun the razor until the Indians tasted defeat.

The Tribe won the first game 8 to 2, when Vernon Kennedy pitched seven-hit ball while his teammates fashioned 13 hits. Ray Post started the nightcap and retired the first 13 batters in three and a third innings. The Senators banged out two hits and Boudreau pulled out Post, sending in Mike Naynick in the fourth. Big Mike, with two men on base, walked the first two men to face him, without throwing a strike, walking in a run and yielding the mound to Joe Heving.

Heving also walked in a run and gave up a two-run single yesterday, ending the inning and his day's chores.

Boudreau's third guess was Al Miller, who yielded runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh innings. Merz, a former American Legion flinger from Newark, O., held the Indians to four hits until the ninth.

THE BEST BOOK ON EMBATTLED RUSSIA
HENRY C. CASSIDY'S MOSCOW DATELINE is the new national best-seller being hailed from coast to coast as "the best book yet written on embattled Russia."
It will appear in this newspaper soon.
Don't miss it.
Cassidy is The Associated Press chief in Moscow whose "second front" correspondence with Stalin made history.
His book is the first full story behind the Russian war to date—the story behind the Stalingrad, the Moscow Blitz, Churchill's and Willkie's visits. It has enough action and drama to fill a dozen novels, and it answers the big questions about Russia every American ought to know.

"Neighborhood Farming" Helps Solve Farm Labor Problems

Long Hours Reported Overcoming Most of Marion County's Rural Manpower Shortages.

There is still an acute shortage of farm labor in Marion county, a majority of the 1,500 tillers of the soil in the county have arrived at the point where they are steadily growing in the number of hours they are working each week. The "neighborhood" system of farming was one of the main topics of discussion at meetings of county farmers this spring designed to suggest methods by which the pending labor shortage could be averted. Arthur Smith, county agricultural extension agent, was personally in charge of some of these meetings and remarks that most of the farmers showed preference of the "neighborhood" idea to any other of the numerous alleviation possibilities. The county farm labor committee, also traveled to various sections of the county early this spring to gather sufficient information concerning the consensus of farmers as to the labor problems with which to work out well-rounded and satisfactory decisions.

In past years, Mr. Smith says, there were threshing "rings", after which the present cooperative "neighborhood" policy was apparently patterned. These rings, according to the labor assistant, were composed of a few farmers who lived in the same sections of the county. Reports from some county farmers where "threshing" instead of the now almost universally adopted combining is done, indicate that these rings are still in existence.

With six registrants, five boys and one man, yet unable to be placed by Mr. Smith, the farm labor files of this county, contrary to their usual depleted status this year, are now supplied with reserve laborers much to the delight and disbelief of county farm labor officials.

Mr. Smith, surprised at this unexpected sudden turn back to the optimistic side of the picture for farm labor affairs, nevertheless was certain requests from local farmers for these workers will be coming in "full blast" within a short time. He reminds Marionites corn harvesting will be down upon farmers in a few weeks before they know it and soybean harvesting will be hitting its zenith output in early October. At that time, he adds, many of the school boys employed for only summer work will have returned to classrooms and their absence will return the farm labor situation to a possibly more muddled state than before.

County labor leaders have almost formed the opinion that if local residents would display as much interest as out-of-town inhabitants in the farm affairs of this county, there would have never been such a magnitudinous farm worker dearth.

To support this statement, they point to several letters received by Mr. Smith and Mr. Smith during the past few weeks. One of these epistles was received from a soldier stationed at Tallahassee, Fla., who said he lived in Marion for 34 years and still possessed, a deep-rooted attraction for it.

This serviceman said he would be willing to lend a helping hand in producing all-vital farm crops here. He informed local officials his superior officers would undoubtedly issue him an honorable discharge from the Army if he had proof he would enter into a necessary civilian vocation. "Certainly," he went on, "farming is considered by every patriotic and sensible American as necessary."

Another individual, only 18 years old, who did not state in his missive to Mr. Smith, whether he had ever resided in Marion previously, also was enthusiastic about getting a farm job in the county. This lad's letter was postmarked Olive Hill, Ky.

Two other job-seekers who sent letters to Mr. Smith hailed from the southeastern and far eastern parts of the state. They, like the Kentucky youth, did not mention ever living in Marion county.

Mr. Smith is not sure whether he will locate a farmer who will desire the services of these out-of-town persons, but he says, "I will most certainly keep them on file."

Both Mr. Smith and Mr. Smith say they are completely ignorant of how men from these far-flung sections of the country happened to hear of Marion county's farm labor shortage, certainly no more advertised or more acute than

30 INDICTED IN COAL STRIKE

Charges Based on New Constitutionally-Smuth Labor Measure.

PITTSBURGH, July 26 — A federal grand jury investigating recent unauthorized strikes in the soft coal fields of southwestern Pennsylvania today indicted 30 persons, charging conspiracy to prevent production of coal in violation of the law.

The prosecutions were the first since enactment of the Constitutionally-Smuth anti-strike law of June 25. The indictments charged defendants specifically with "conspiracy, conspiring and confederating together to interfere by strike and other interruptions with the operations" of mines operated by the government.

The indictment said those named "well knew" that the mines were in possession of the United States and that continuous operation was necessary "for successful prosecution of the war."

Conviction under the anti-strike law carries a fine up to $5,000 or imprisonment for one year.

Special Assistant Attorney General Henry Schweinhaut, assigned from Washington to aid the prosecution, said the defendants included 19 officers of United Mine Workers locals and 11 members. Four local presidents were named.

The grand jury investigation, called July 14, followed continued work stoppages among captive coal mines operated by steel corporations after the United Mine Workers' policy committee and President John L. Lewis had ordered the men to return to work.

At the time the grand jury inquiry started more than 12,000 miners were estranged to be idle. All mines returned to normal operation almost simultaneously with the start of the investigation.

Five separate indictments were returned, based on a total of 32 counts. In one indictment, 21 persons were named. The other four indictments named nine persons.

Crawford County Dedicates Honor Roll of Fighters

Special to The Star

BUCKEYS, July 26—Crawford county paid tribute to its men and women in uniform Sunday when the county honor roll roster bearing names of 1,080 persons in Uncle Sam's service was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies following a parade of patriotic and fraternal organizations.

Martin V. Coffey, Middletown, state commander of the American Legion was the dedicatory speaker. He was introduced by County Pies Judge C. U. Ahl.

Included in the units appearing in the parade were 30 members of the Marion Squadron of the Civil Air patrol led by Squadron Commander Eric Brinke of Galion, and 300 men of Camp Millard selected for proficiency in drilling tactics.

Organizations from the entire county appeared in the line of march headed by Glen Seneney and Chester Hunneke, grand marshals.

Gold star mothers were guests of honor at a tea at the V.F.W. home following the service. Members of the auxiliary acted as hostesses.

CEREMONIES MARK OPENING OF CAMP

111 Boy Scouts from Harding Area at Owens.

Boy Scouts from ten Harding area towns participated in vesper and camp fire services Sunday night which marked the opening of the 1943 camping season at Camp John A. Owens, three miles south of Marion.

Rev. Robert Bowman of Upper Sandusky directed the 111 Scouts present who registered for the first camp session extending until next Sunday in vesper services. As his main theme, Rev. Bowman chose the principles of the scout's oath and law.

Hugh Hay, area scout executive, supervised the traditional camp fire ritual, which will be a feature in the religious and spiritual part of the Owens program throughout the camping season.

Preceding the nocturnal festivities, the scouts underwent thorough physical examinations by Dr. Robert Gray, physician and Eagle scout of the Prospect camp. Dr. Gray will serve as camp physician for all three sessions.

Another pre-camp activity at the camp yesterday was the classification of scouts as to their swimming abilities. Vernal Olin, Eagle scout of Marion Troop 13, who will serve as waterfront director of the camp this year, was in charge of segregating the scouts into respective ability groups. Immediately following the swimming classifications, the customary evening camp swim, was held.

Mr. Hay said Thursday night would be visitors' night at the camp. At that time, any friends or relatives of scouts will be admitted into the camp.

Feature of camp activities will be held Thursday night in the form of movies, to be shown to scouts once during each of the three sessions.

Scouts from the following ten area troops are now at the camp: Troop 6 of Marion, Lawrence Yinger scoutmaster; Troop 28 of Chesterville, Rev. C. R. Mathews scoutmaster; Troop 5 of Marion, Dr. A. J. Wagner scoutmaster; Troop 3 of Marion, Howard Her scoutmaster; Troop 15 of Marion, William Sibbersen scoutmaster; Troop 21 of Buckeys, Anson Smith scoutmaster; Troop 25 of Upper Sandusky, Edwin Naus scoutmaster; Troop 27 of Mt. Gilead, Arthur Moody scoutmaster; Troop 22 of Kenton, L. D. Schmieder scoutmaster; and Troop 4 of Marion, Harry Woodall scoutmaster.

Guard Your Ration Book Closely, OPA Officials Advise

Just as the men and women in the armed services of our country are asked to respect the uniform and a regulation that is issued to them so the civilian at the home front should respect his ration papers, OPA officials state.

All ration books, regardless of whose name they bear, remain the property of the United States government. Theft of such books, even the alteration of ration papers for the purpose of obtaining additional ration stamps, may be punished under powers granted to the federal government by the Second War Powers Act.

The law provides severe penalties for the theft or misappropriation of a ration book. Any one guilty of stealing books that have been left at an applicant's house by the postman may be imprisoned for tampering with the United States Mail.

RESERVE OF WORKERS ON HAND TEMPORARILY

Although additional local men registered with Mr. Smith or at the local agricultural extension office last week, positions for only four of them on county farms could be found by the labor assistant. Three of these workers were adult men who are working part time and the other is a boy of high school age who was placed for a full time post.

With six registrants, five boys and one man, yet unable to be placed by Mr. Smith, the farm labor files of this county, contrary to their usual depleted status this year, are now supplied with reserve laborers much to the delight and disbelief of county farm labor officials.

OFFERS OF HELP COME FROM OUTSIDE

County labor leaders have almost formed the opinion that if local residents would display as much interest as out-of-town inhabitants in the farm affairs of this county, there would have never been such a magnitudinous farm worker dearth.

To support this statement, they point to several letters received by Mr. Smith and Mr. Smith during the past few weeks. One of these epistles was received from a soldier stationed at Tallahassee, Fla., who said he lived in Marion for 34 years and still possessed, a deep-rooted attraction for it.

WEATHERMAN HELPS WITH HARVESTING JOB

Farmers report last week was the most ideal of the year as far as cooperation from the weatherman went. With old "Sol" shining in a beneficial manner on the wheat, hay, and oat crops, local husbandmen were able to produce crops at the greatest volume yet this year.

Taking fullest advantage of the rain-free weather, farmers labored long hours last week to almost complete wheat harvesting and go a long way to spelling finish to hay-making and oat-harvesting.

Mr. Smith said near the end of last week that the greatest bulk of wheat combining and threshing had been finished and only incidental tasks connected with producing the crop remained. The same held true for haymaking, he added.

Oats shocking and harvesting hit top stride about the middle of last week, and if the good weather (for which farmers are hoping and praying) continues, some oldtime farm figures, stepping into the unaccustomed job of agricultural oracles, predicted harvesting of that crop would be cleaned up in another week.

Local elevator operators report much of the wheat turned in by county farmers has contained quite a bit of scab, the dreaded wheat disease, but not enough to cause a critical decrease in the amount of suitable grain. At first, Mr. Smith feared as much as a 15 to 20 per cent cut in local wheat production but farm officials report the output has not been that curtailed.

Average moisture content of wheat sold to elevators has also not been as high as it was originally anticipated. Practically all of the wheat has contained less than 15 per cent aqua pura, which will meet revised elevator standards, turned topsy-turvy by the war.

FARM WORK WON'T END SECURITY BENEFITS

Beatrice A. Bishop of the Marion field office of the national social security board is another bearer of good tidings for county farmers, already swamped with reports of unexpected upward trends in local agricultural affairs.

She has informed farmers that according to the requirements of the social security system, the monthly benefits of any person will not be affected if that person goes into agricultural work. Already several individuals over 65 are working on farms in Marion county and in view of Miss Bishop's announcement, many more may follow suit.

GALION — When commencement exercises are held at Ohio university at Athens Friday, Aileen E. Arndt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Arndt of 224 South Columbus street, will be one of the candidates for the bachelor of science degree. She is an elementary teacher in the Galion public schools.

PATRIOTIC FILM TO BE SHOWN BY LEGION

Public Invited To See Picture at Dugout.

"The American Legion," a new film just released for American Legion posts, USO centers and Army, Navy and Marine reservations will be shown free to the public Wednesday night at 8 p. m. at the Legion Dugout on South High street. The film is being sponsored by Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, and is designed to tell the story of the Legion and its contribution to our American way of life and to stimulate loyalty to community, state and nation, the sponsors announce.

The film gets off to a good start with interesting pictures of Legion conventions held prior to the present war, in St. Louis, Chicago and Boston. Shown are the 40 ft. 8 locomotives, massed colors, parades, bands, drum and bugle corps and the clowning groups. In contrast are the solemn story of leadership and stewardship, and the post-war services of the veterans through national defense, Americanism, child welfare, rehabilitation and the all-business national convention at Kansas City last year.

PRIVATE OPERATOR OF DEPOT LIKELY

Report U. S. Considers Plan Affecting Army Units.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 26 — Reports here indicated today that the federal government would sign a contract within the next week to 10 days for Sears, Roebuck & Co. to take over operation of the Lordstown Army depot.

No statement has been issued either here or at Warren, but it is known that key personnel of the depot have been informed the deal is likely.

Reports indicate the government is negotiating with Sears, Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and Lever Brothers and other large firms to operate ordnance depots to release military officials for active duty.

REV. CARRIKER SPEAKS AT UNION SERVICES

"Not Ashamed of Christ" Topic of Sermon at Church.

Rev. John A. Carriker of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church preached the need for Christian people to stand up for Christ in his sermon entitled "Not Ashamed of Christ" at the fourth union Sunday evening service held at Trinity Baptist church Sunday night. He pointed out that since Christians are people are not ashamed of Christ, his teachings, his life, his cross, or his resurrection, they should not be ashamed to go with him into all the world.

Rev. E. H. Werth of First Evangelical and Reformed church presided in the absence of Rev. J. B. Holloway, who is training for chaplaincy in the U. S. Navy. Rev. P. E. Snook of Calvary Evangelical church read the Scripture and Rev. Garrison Roebuck of First United Brethren church gave the prayer.

Alfred C. May, principal of Harding High school, was principal speaker at the Christian Young People's Union meeting preceding the union service. His subject was "Education as a Pathway Leading to God."

The young people of Calvary Evangelical church were in charge. Miss Alberta Cowlin presided, and Miss Stella Buscusi read the Scripture. The offering was taken by Lawrence Weaver. Miss Hilda Bowes of Toledo sang, "I Walk Where Jesus Walks Today," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. J. W. Baker.

Birthplace of Fascism Reported Set Afire

BERN, SWITZERLAND, July 26 — An unconfirmed report reaching Bern from Italy said the birthplace of fascism in Milan had been burned along with the building of the Fascist newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia, there.

Italian commissioners of public safety at Chiasso and other frontier cities were reported ordered by military authorities to remove all Fascist insignia. Travelers from Italy also were ordered to take off party buttons.

Registration Under Way for Camp, Pittenger

UPPER SANDUSKY, July 26 — Registration is under way at the Wyandot county extension office for the rural women's camp, Aug. 5-8, at Camp Pittenger, three miles east of McCutchenville.

Reservations are being received from women in Erie, Seneca, Crawford, Marion and Richland and Wyandot counties. The program will include boating, campfires, vespers, singing, hobbies, crafts and games, as well as talks and demonstrations.

Friday will be visitors' day. A Red Cross demonstration on first aid will open the program for the day, and Miss Edna Callahan, clothing specialist at Ohio State university will give demonstrations on the care and repair of clothing.

Mrs. Henry Ebert, a German refugee will speak at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, on "Life in Nazi Germany" and tell the story of her family's escape to America. She and her husband were lawyers in Germany prior to the Nazi rule.

ALLIES WON'T LET UP IN BLOWS ON ITALY

WASHINGTON, July 26 — Secretary of State Hull indicated today that increased military pressure to insure Italian capitulation to the allied demand for unconditional surrender would be this country's response to the downfall of Benito Mussolini.

He termed very timely and appropriate the ending of the Italian premier's regime and said it was the first major step in the early and complete eradication of Fascism. But Hull emphasized repeatedly that chief reliance is on military developments.

The state department head, making the first official American comment on the displacement of the Italian dictator, told a press conference that the allies were fighting like the devil.

Hull indicated no change in the unconditional surrender policy laid down by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill and said if all minds are kept on fighting like the devil the allies will win the war much sooner.

He emphasized that all attention was on military developments.

Hull said in response to another question that he believed Japan would take due notice of what has occurred in Italy.

100 at Mar-O-Del Golf Course Sunday

Over 100 regular members and greens fees golfers, one of the largest turnouts of the season, registered at the Mar-O-Del club house Sunday for play under one of the hottest suns ever to blaze down upon the wide open spaces of Marion's municipal course. No scores were posted on the club handicap board with most of the linksmen smothering out the kinks in their footwear, swings, and timing in preparation for the return inter-club match between Country club and Mar-O-Del next Sunday.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

DICKY TURNED at the door with a last question: "The housekeeper's bringing you upstairs herself?"

"Yes," I replied. "I'm going to call her right away."

"Good!" he commended. "Hallowan, would you mind staying in here until the housekeeper comes? The guard's outside, I know, but I'd just as soon Mrs. Graham wasn't left alone from now on."

"I didn't intend to go, anyhow, until she came," Hallowan answered. "I want to see if she approves Mrs. Graham's transformation."

Dicky Departs

"She'll approve all right," Dicky assured him, as he closed the door, and Hallowan's face was a round moon of satisfaction. I went to the telephone and put in a call to the housekeeper's room; then waited for what seemed interminable minutes—although she really was quick in response—until she appeared.

"Do you mind walking up?" she asked. "It might be wise."

"I'd much rather," I told her, and was suddenly conscious that I was having hard work to keep my voice steady. I acquiesced myself of being afraid for my personal safety, but I was greatly worried lest her malevolent eye might penetrate my disguise.

I knew that my father was counting on having her remain unaware that she was being watched so that she would take the money Olin was bringing her to the next person in line—my father believed, was Stephen Redfield—and then go to the appointment with Hal Mercedith, where he expected finally to trap her.

I knew that he never would have risked having me undergo Ruth's keen scrutiny, if he had not been so anxious to have a friend of Olin's near her while she was talking to the "Wilderness Woman." I knew also that he believed so strongly in my histrionic ability that he was sure Ruth would never dream I was near her.

Madge Is Apprehensive

It was this implicit confidence of his that gave me mental goose flesh. I must not fail him, I told myself, and grew the more tremulous at the fear that I might.

Hallowan edged toward the door, and as I saw his disappointed face, I realized that the housekeeper's professional poise, gained in dealing with thousands of situations where she must suppress all emotion of any kind, had kept her from making any comment upon his handiwork.

"Wait a moment, please," I said to him. Then I turned to the housekeeper.

"Mr. Hallowan is naturally anxious to know if he has pleased you," I said. "What do you think of my disguise?"

"It is simply perfect," she said, with a warmth of approval in her voice which I was sure must satisfy even the make-up artist.

"If I had not expected to find you in disguise, I never would have known you. I am sure that when you have practiced a bit, no one will guess you ever were anything but a hotel maid."

Hallowan Leaves Them

"Thank you," Hallowan said gratefully, and I wish you the best of luck, Mrs. Graham. And now, I will bid you good day."

"Good-bye," I answered, and thank you for a very marvelous piece of work. I'll let you know when to come back here, and restore me to myself again as soon as I know the hour myself."

"I'll be waiting at home," he said. "It isn't very far from here. I should be here within fifteen minutes after your call. If that is too long, I can stay here in the hotel."

"Why don't you do that, anyway?" I said, beginning to visualize the number of emergencies which might demand a hasty return to my own personality. "Stay right here until I come down again. I'll send down for the newspapers and a magazine, perhaps."

"Thank you," he said, "but I have all I need right here."

He drew a newspaper from his pocket, and, laying his hat and coat on a chair, waited, courteously standing, for us to leave.

As he walked to the door, the telephone shrilled, and the housekeeper looked inquiringly at me.

"It must be my husband," I said, trying to keep a tremor out of my voice. "He said he would let me know the instant that woman arrived."

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Nazi Madness

Out of the welter of plans for the reconstruction of Germany after the war comes at last a medical diagnosis. It is contained in a book called "Is Germany Incurable?" by Richard M. Brickner (published by J. B. Lippincott, Philadelphia). Dr. Brickner is an eminent and experienced psychiatrist, and he charges quite plainly that in his professional opinion Germany is a pathological case that the whole nation is showing a paranoid trend.

A paranoid trend is towards a condition which used to be called paranoia; a word psychiatrists do not like to use any more. Paranoia is egotistic monomania, and one of the most dangerous of mental diseases. Paranoics are killers of the type of Czolgosz and Hauptmann.

The basis for the diagnosis Dr. Brickner adduces from first-hand evidence by the words and deeds of Germans for the past hundred years or more.

The four German symptoms pointing to a paranoid trend are: 1. Megalomania. — "German character may yet become the salvation of the world," Emmanuel Geibel, 1861. "Perhaps before much time passes the German will govern the world," Otto Julius Langkohn, 1891. "The German nation is always right because it is German," Otto Tannenber, 1911.

2. The Need to Dominate. — "Woe and death to those who resist my will. Woe and death to those who do not believe in my mission," Kaiser Wilhelm, 1914.

3. Persecution Complex. — "Germany must no longer be the world's spittoon," Prince August Wilhelm, 1935. "We are encircled by enemies," Ernest Hasse, 1937.

4. Retrospective Falsification. — "When have the German people ever broken their word?" Adolf Hitler, 1935.

As a prescription for treatment, Dr. Brickner points out that in nearly all paranoid minds there are "clear areas"—areas of sanity that can be developed towards sanity. In the German population today he believes that there are some groups who are "clear areas" and these can be utilized to bring peace and reason to that disturbed and unhappy country.

What do I as a physician think of Dr. Brickner's diagnosis and plan of treatment? Several years ago I published an article in which I made a diagnosis of Hitler on the basis of his own words in Mein Kampf and gave as my opinion that he was unquestionably a paranoic (Hannemier, one of the dangerous things about a paranoic is that he may be a very able, skillful planner in many fields.)

Paranoic trends are undoubtedly contagious, and there must be a large zone of them around Hitler. But long ago, speaking of nothing else but America, Edmund Burke said, "I do not know the method of drawing up an indictment against a whole people." I have a feeling that there are larger clear areas among the German people than Dr. Brickner allows.

As for the treatment, paranoic trends are notoriously unlikely of cure. If Dr. Brickner's exploitation of the "clear areas" do not work, what is left for Germany? Miss Dorothy Thompson says they cannot be re-educated. The alternative is unthinkable.

The Stars Say—

By GENEVIEVE REMBLE

For Tuesday, July 27

WHILE THERE is definite promise of progress and expansion, it is advisable to proceed quickly and decisively if real constructive work is to be accomplished. Also there may be certain dangers from false steps or mismanagement as well as due to acting with impulsiveness. It may be wise to re-examine plans of procedure in order to side step certain dangers for writing and business or professional pursuits, but refrain from social and domestic bickerings.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of progress and advancement, with affairs moving at high tempo. The way may be beset with dangers, which may be averted by well planned moves, but mistakes and misadventures are not on the agenda. Changes, travel contacts, deals with strangers for those in high place should find favor, but keep the social and domestic scene clear, and harmonious and businesslike as well as professional association should prove lucrative and pleasant.

A child born on this day may be blessed with much creative ability and versatility. With precaution, and restraint of personality it should enjoy a successful and happy life.
